MANAWATŪ, A NAME THAT MEANS “HEART STANDING STILL”,
IS A PLACE WHERE FERTILE PLAINS NOURISH, WHERE OUR RIVER
CARVES ITS OWN PATH FORWARD AND OUR MOUNTAIN RANGES
- RUAHINE AND TARARUA - STAND TALL. FIRST SETTLED SOME 400 YEARS AGO BY MĀORI, THE REGION IS HOME TO THREE IWI:
RANGITĀNE O MANAWATŪ, RAUKAWA AND NGĀTI KAUWHATA.

RANGITĀNE IWI – THE TANGATA WHENUA OR PEOPLE OF THE MANAWATŪ – TRACE THEIR ORIGINS BACK TO THE KURAHAUPO AND AOTEA MIGRATORY CANOES. ACCORDING TO MĀORI LEGEND, THE GREAT MANAWATŪ RIVER WAS NAMED BY EXPLORER HAU WHO HAD TRAVELLED DOWN THE COAST FROM TARANAKI, CHASING AFTER HIS RUNAWAY WIFE AND HER LOVER. HAU HAD ALREADY CROSSED OTHER BIG RIVERS, BUT THE MANAWATŪ MADE HIS “HEART STAND STILL”.

MANAWATŪ // THE BEST OF BOTH WORLDS

MANAWATŪ IS FAMOUS FOR ITS EFFORTLESS BLEND OF CITY AND RURAL LIVING; HERE YOU CAN CHOOSE YOUR IDEAL LIFESTYLE, FROM PEACEFUL RURAL VILLAGES, TO BUSTLING TOWNSHIPS, OR CITY LIFE.

THE REGION INCLUDES THE CHARMING TOWNS OF FEILDING, KIMBOLTON, ĀPITI, HIMATANGI BEACH, LINTON AND ASHHURST TO NAME A FEW, AND AT THE CENTRE OF IT ALL IS THE CITY OF PALMERSTON NORTH, THE LIVELY, MULTI-CULTURAL HEART OF MANAWATŪ.

The region spans 2,624 km² and encompasses breathtakingly beautiful parks, rivers and mountain ranges, including the famous Tararua and Ruahine Ranges, and sweeps out to the rugged west coast beaches of Himatangi and Tangimoana.

Over 120,000 people choose to call Manawatū home, with nearly 75% living in Palmerston North. Hop in the car and you're less than two hours from Wellington and one hour from Whanganui. It's also an easy drive to North Island ski fields, Hawke's Bay wineries and Mount Taranaki.

What makes Palmerston North city and Manawatū more liveable than most, is the world class education, flourishing industries (including technology, education and logistics) and a safe environment for raising a family.

Did you know Manawatū is recognised among some of the top agrifood hubs in the world? Home to more than 3900 scientists, researchers and innovators and national and global companies, the agritech and agrifood sector here is thriving.

The opportunities for business and investment are seemingly endless, as are the lifestyle opportunities, from breathtaking walking and mountain biking tracks to thriving food and retail scenes, that stand shoulder-to-shoulder with the big cities of New Zealand.

Living in Manawatū offers meaningful experiences. It is a place for the adventurous, the eco and culture-conscious and the thinkers of this world. It provides a road less travelled, and more opportunity than most for learning, for growth and for life. So let the weight lift off those shoulders and relax into the life you've always planned on having.

OUR PAST, OUR PEOPLE // HEART STANDING STILL

OUR HISTORY

Manawatū, a name that means “heart standing still”, is a place where fertile plains nourish, where our river carves its own path forward and our mountain ranges - Ruahine and Tararua - stand tall. First settled some 400 years ago by Māori, the region is home to three iwi: Rangitāne O Manawatū, Raukawa and Ngāti Kauwhata.

“MANAWATŪ IS A REGION FULL OF DREAMERS AND DOERS, A TALENTED POPULATION WHO ALSO VALUE COMMUNITY. EVERYONE HAS A UNIQUE STORY TO TELL AND INCREDIBLE JOURNEYS THAT ARE UNRAVELLING AND FLOURISHING HERE.”

MAHALEE GUIEYSSE, PALMERSTON NORTH LOCAL

OUR LEGEND

Rangitāne iwi - the tangata whenua or people of the Manawatū - trace their origins back to the Kurahaupo and Aotea migratory canoes. According to Māori legend, the great Manawatū River was named by explorer Hau who had travelled down the coast from Taranaki, chasing after his runaway wife and her lover. Hau had already crossed other big rivers, but the Manawatū made his “heart stand still”.

CREATING CONNECTIONS // NEW ZEALAND'S BEST CONNECTED CITY

Manawatū is a thriving, prosperous and internationally oriented region in the heart of central New Zealand, with rail, road and air links throughout Aotearoa.

Did you know Palmerston North is one of the most central, well connected cities in New Zealand?

GETTING AROUND

- >> Direct flights to Auckland, Hamilton, Christchurch and Nelson - connecting flights to the rest of New Zealand.
- >> Palmerston North Airport is the 7th largest airport in New Zealand.
- >> Our airport is situated a short 11-minute drive from Palmerston North's CBD.
- >> Average commute time from home into the city - 15 minutes.
- >> Easy two-hour drive to Wellington, Hawke's Bay, Wairarapa and Taranaki, and three hours to Taupō.
- >> Daily commuter train services linking Palmerston North with Wellington.
- >> Regular daily bus services within Palmerston North, plus daily commuter services linking regional communities.
- >> InterCity bus daily services to all North Island cities.

FUTURE FACING //

WE ARE EXPERIENCING RECORD LEVELS OF GROWTH AND INVESTMENT, CREATING A BUOYANT ECONOMY SO THERE IS NO BETTER TIME THAN RIGHT NOW TO BE PART OF THE ACTION IN MANAWATŪ.

By 2025, Manawatū will be New Zealand's most progressive region, a bold and ambitious vision. In fact, our target is to be the first choice for talent, business and investment for New Zealanders and those living abroad.

Achieving this vision relies on three big goals:

By 2025 Manawatū will be:

- >> Recognised as one of the top three agrifood hubs in the world.
- >> A leading distribution hub, and leverages off its role in central New Zealand.
- >> Renowned for its exceptional lifestyle and competitive advantages, and is a magnet for investment, business and talent.

We know where we are heading, and we'd love for you to join us!

IN THE PIPELINE //

Palmerston North city and Manawatū have a secure and bright future, with more than $4 billion of investment underway or planned in the next decade. This pipeline of investment includes significant roading projects Te Ahu a Turanga, the Regional Freight Ring Road, KiwiRail Freight Hub, capital works for Massey University and expansion of our Hospital facilities.

Other significant projects include FoodHQ, several new distribution centres, Mercury Energy wind farm and a significant upgrade to the city's main sporting and events Arena. The region is seeing significant interest from investors in leading edge green technology projects.

OUR KEY INDUSTRIES //

PRIMARY +
AGRIBUSINESS //

Our agricultural sector underpins the region's economy, playing a key role in New Zealand's meat and dairy industries.

The growth and productivity of this sector is supported by a strong agricultural research base in the region including FoodHQ, the Massey and AgResearch joint food science facility, Te Ohu Rangahau Kai, and three Crown Research Institutes.

FOOD INNOVATION //

Manawatū is renowned as a national centre of excellence for agrifood innovation, with the research institutes and a number of incubators supporting innovative agrifood and agritech firms.

The high concentration of world-class research and business collaboration here offers a compelling case for more international companies to locate their agrifood-based operations in Manawatū.

BUSINESS SUPPORT HUB //

As the preferred head office location for a growing number of national and global companies, and government departments, Manawatū provides a thriving and connected business community ideal for any size – from start-ups to big business.

Our location keeps us close to the pulse of Government in Wellington, and with robust infrastructure and high-speed digital connections, the city plays a lead role in the digital telecommunications for New Zealand's crisis centres.

DISTRIBUTION & LOGISTICS //

Manawatū is perfectly located at the heart of the lower North Island with the region connecting Taranaki, Hawke's Bay and Taupō to Wellington. This forms a distribution point across the lower North Island to a quarter of New Zealand's population. This is a central hub with highway, rail and air connections to major centres and regions in all directions, creating a successful distribution and logistics centre where big businesses, including EziBuy and Foodstuffs base themselves, as well as a number of transport and logistics companies.

A PLACE WHERE INNOVATION AND BUSINESS THRIVE //

"MANAWATŪ IS QUITE A FORCE WHEN IT COMES TO INNOVATION AND BUSINESS. IT'S SUCH A HUB OF EXPERTISE AND POSSIBILITIES."

DANIELLE BALMER,
PALMERSTON NORTH AIRPORT

Manawatū provides an established business ecosystem of national and global companies, startups, research institutes, educational organisations, defence forces and central and local government agencies. The region is in a strong position to continue bucking the trend of a cooling global economy.

We are home to FoodHQ, a collaboration of internationally recognised companies, research and educational institutions providing food companies and innovators access to one of the world's leading clusters of food science expertise and facilities.

The Fonterra Research and Development Centre (FRDC), one of the largest dairy research facilities in the world, has more than 300 researchers, engineers and scientists from 46 countries, including 130 PhDs. Synlait also has R&D facilities here.

You will find world leading agritech companies and boutique makers and innovators rubbing shoulders with the likes of Fonterra, Toyota and Ezibuy, one of Australasia's largest multi-channel retailers, whose headquarters are in Palmerston North.

Combine our innovative business minds with our prominent educational and research institutes, cultural diversity, safety and affordability, innovative and sustainable industries, and central location, and you have a robust and stable pool of qualified talent to power any successful enterprise. Pair all of this with our strong employment in agriculture, construction, manufacturing, services and defence sector employment, and you also have a business community unique to New Zealand.

WHY DO BUSINESS IN MANAWATŪ?

- >> We are New Zealand's centre of science, education and innovation. This includes world leading food science and research organisations, R&D facilities and institutions that support entrepreneurship.
- >> We have no shortage of talent: Palmerston North has the highest concentration of scientists, researchers and innovators in Australasia, with 3,900 working in the sector.
- >> Our region's central location positions us as a distribution and logistics hub with state highway, rail and air connections to regions in all directions. There is significant investment going into additional infrastructure under the Central New Zealand Distribution Hub. This includes the KiwiRail Regional Freight Hub, the North East Industrial Zone, Palmerston North Airport, and the planned Regional Freight Ring Road.
- >> There are solid linkages between Massey University, UCOL and IPU New Zealand and industry which builds a skilled and talented pipeline of workers.
- >> The world class telecommunications infrastructure in Manawatū includes NZ's first roll-out of 5G.
- >> There are low costs of doing business in our region.
- >> We offer outstanding and affordable lifestyle opportunities for your staff.
- >> The above ecosystem supports key sectors such as agrifood, agritech, transport and logistics, health and defence.

THE FUTURE //

We have survived 2020 due to our diversified and resilient economy, with our economy continuing to flourish. Looking ahead, we will continue to be a surge region over the medium to long-term.

Opportunities for investment in Manawatū are seemingly endless. We have a wide range of commercial and industrial development opportunities in the works, with $4 billion of public investment and infrastructure secured and underway in the next 10 years.

A growing number of corporates have chosen to base their headquarters in Palmerston North. In addition, government and public sector industries are also well represented in the city, with the Defence Force and multiple District Health Board service hubs both located here as well as Housing NZ, NZ Immigration Service, Te Puni Kōkiri and Studylink.

The Central New Zealand Distribution Hub is a huge project for the city, the region and New Zealand's economic growth. This hub will integrate rail, air and road transport, marrying greater efficiency for moving goods between rail, road and air. One of a kind in New Zealand, it will bring with it jobs and significant opportunities.

This will build on our comparative advantages, drawing further investment interest in the region.

THERE ARE MANY THINGS WE ARE PROUD OF IN MANAWATŪ, BUT IT IS THE INNOVATIONS WE CONTINUE TO MAKE TO ACHIEVE A GREENER, HEALTHIER PLANET, WHICH ARE OUR FAVOURITE. OUR SCIENTIFIC AND TECHNOLOGICAL CAPABILITIES IN THE FIELD OF AGRIFOOD AND TECH INNOVATION IS OUR POINT OF DIFFERENCE AND THE REASON WHY GLOBAL COMPANIES TURN TO US TO FIND THE SOLUTIONS TO THEIR SUSTAINABILITY PROBLEMS.

THE FUTURE OF FOOD // STARTS HERE //

MANAWATŪ IS HOME TO AN ESTABLISHED AND GROWING AGRIFOOD HUB OF NEW ZEALAND, FAMOUS FOR ITS INNOVATION AND EXCELLENCE WITHIN THE FIELDS OF AGRICULTURE, AGRITECH AND FOOD SUSTAINABILITY. THE ADVANCES WE HAVE MADE IN THESE AREAS HAVE CONTRIBUTED TO THE TRANSFORMATIVE ECONOMIC GROWTH OF THE REGION.

We're creating successful and sustainable economic development by building on our strengths in agrifood and agritech expertise to create growth and expansion and investment opportunities, as well as quality, well paid jobs that offer training and a genuine career path.

We've developed a high concentration of collaborating businesses, academics and research institutions supported by local and central government, to improve the performance of our agriculture and agritech sectors. These include educational institutions Massey University, UCOL and Talent Central, as well as FoodHQ, AgResearch, The Factory, Rural Innovation Lab and the global agritech accelerator Sprout, and to foster real progress in attracting international investment, accelerating innovation and developing talent.

BUILDING A LEGACY // NZ'S GREENEST REGION

Palmerston North is a future-focused city that plans for, and cares about, a sustainable future. The Palmerston North City Council (PNCC) is working towards the city becoming a low carbon economy and creating clean energy, with the effective planning of infrastructure and the protection, maintenance and enhancement of the natural and built environment. Manawatū is also strengthening its environmental and sustainability initiatives through the likes of Environment Network Manawatū, Arohata Te Kawau, Ruahine Whio Protectors project, and the Central Energy Trust Wildbase Recovery.

MAKING THE JUMP:

" I USED TO LIVE IN HAMILTON AND COMMUTE TO WORK IN AUCKLAND EVERYDAY - SOMETHING I GREW TIRED OF. MOVING BACK TO MANAWATŪ, I WAS ABLE TO MOVE TO A RURAL LIFESTYLE BLOCK TO SPEND TIME WITH MY YOUNG DAUGHTERS BUT STILL BE CLOSE TO SHOPS, GREAT SCHOOLS AND EVERYTHING ELSE WE NEEDED IN PALMERSTON NORTH."

A MAGIC FORMULA // SHAREENA SANDBROOK

SHAREENA SANDBROOK HAS LIVED IN MANAWATŪ FOR MOST OF HER LIFE. HOME TO HER IS THE PICTURESQUE POHANGINA VALLEY.

Shareena's business, Frogparking, are specialists at start-ups, with a track record in bringing innovative tech solutions to low tech industries. They saw a gap in the market to go global with their high-tech parking technology. Now, with offices in Los Angeles, Melbourne and Sydney and customers all over the world, Shareena is normally offshore for a large part of the year. The direct links from Palmerston North to Auckland, Wellington and Christchurch means it is a breeze to head off on an international flight to anywhere in the world.

Shareena chose Manawatū for her headquarters for its lifestyle opportunities and lack of commute.

Frogparking employs graduates from Palmerston North's Massey University to fill engineering, marketing, design and production roles. Shareena's staff are like family, often catching up with each other on evenings and weekends or doing things outside work together. The beauty of living and working in a small community. "The Manawatū is an easy place to live. We have staff that have bought houses and moved here from other parts of New Zealand. It's a great place to settle down and we want our staff to enjoy living here for a long time."

Manawatū's fast internet makes remote working easy for Shareena and her team, and she is excited by the region's big focus on getting 5G.

When she is not at work, you can find Shareena riding her three horses on her lifestyle block, at the beach or a nearby forest. "Recently I decided to give downhill mountain biking a go. There are some great tracks up at Arapuke Mountain Bike Park - alas, the tracks are better when you stay on two wheels, not tumbling down the side of them like I did recently!"

WHERE TALENT THRIVES //

MANAWATŪ PROVIDES MANY OPPORTUNITIES FOR PART-TIME AND FULL-TIME WORK,

PARTICULARLY IN THE FIELDS OF INFRASTRUCTURE DEVELOPMENT AND CONSTRUCTION, AGRIFOOD AND AGRITECH, MANUFACTURING, BUSINESS SUPPORT, SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, HEALTH AND EDUCATION.

Government agencies, research facilities and education providers sit alongside some exciting and innovative small and medium-sized businesses who make up an important part of our workforce. Our diverse range of industries and scale means we're always on the lookout for qualified and skilled people to move and work here.

Major infrastructure works such as Te Ahu a Turanga Manawatū - Tararua Highway, Ohakea redevelopment and Mercury Energy wind farm, are further boosting employment opportunities and stimulating the economy along with a strong construction pipeline of new housing and business facilities.

DANIELLE AND BEN ARE YOUNG
PROFESSIONALS WHO HAVE JUST BUILT THEIR FIRST HOME IN FEILDING.

Danielle is the Marketing and Communications Manager for Palmerston North Airport, and Ben is in the Royal New Zealand Airforce currently posted to Maintenance Wing Ohakea where he is part of the Deeper Maintenance servicing team on the A109 and NH90 helicopters.

Danielle, a Manawatū native, and Ben, from the South Island, have chosen the region for its affordability, pace of life, proximity to the rest of the country and the short commuting times.

Danielle and Ben chose to build a home, as opposed to buying an existing home. “Affordability wise building a home was the perfect scenario for us. Through word of mouth we were able to secure a section and a house design we were really excited about and for relatively the same cost as buying an existing home. It was a no brainer. We built in Feilding and there was no question for us that this is where we wanted to build our life together, as we were close to family and the city but could also enjoy the small-town lifestyle. Plus, building allowed us the freedom to have everything we ever really dreamed of having in a home.”

In their spare time you'll find Ben playing first five for the Manawatū Turbos rugby team, and Danielle sampling the wares at some of her favourite eateries Saigon Corner, The Herb Farm and The Fat Farmer to name a few. Together they enjoy walking and hiking the Te Āpiti - Manawatū Gorge, He Ara Kotahi and the Sledge Track all with their amazing views and lush native bush.

“Heading out to Foxton Beach in the summer and stopping by Mr Grumpy's for some fish and chips is a highlight. So is horse trekking out at Makoura Lodge in Āpiti with its panoramic views. Visiting Orlando Country Club and having a crack at their driving range is also a tonne of fun.”

“Small town and regional living has some really awesome benefits that you just can't get anywhere else. On the whole don't knock it till you try it really rings true here. A number of my friends are choosing this lifestyle more now over big city living and we can all see why.”

Our unique natural beauty makes the outdoor life a whole lot sweeter. Manawatū is a hard region to beat when it comes to our walking and mountain bike tracks, and proximity to stunning beaches, rivers and swimming holes. Walk the dogs, take a picnic, stare at the beautiful scenery or mix up your running route. Take a ride down the premier mountain bike destination Arapuke Mountain Bike Park varying from grade two to grade five.

For walking tracks, we think the Ruahine and Tararua Forest Parks are unmatched in terms of their beauty and wild, natural landscape, as are the extensive walking trails alongside the Manawatū River. The Sledge Track and Rangiwahia Hut Track are hugely rewarding tramps, and Te Āpiti – Manawatū Gorge is one of the North Islands iconic outdoor destinations for walking and hiking. And take the road less travelled with three backcountry drives: The Country Road is a collection of scenic driving routes which allows you to stop along the way and explore Manawatū's backyard.

Whether sitting on the sand or dipping into the waters of our west coast beaches, the Himatangi, Tangimoana and Foxton Beach provide a perfect opportunity to reconnect with nature.

GAME//ON

PALMERSTON NORTH HAS A GREAT RANGE OF RECREATIONAL FACILITIES, INCLUDING MORE THAN 170 RESERVES AND SPORTS FIELDS WHICH VARY IN SIZE FROM SMALL URBAN 'POCKET PARKS' TO LARGE OUTDOOR RECREATION AREAS.

Our award-winning Lido Aquatic Centre complex is also an absolute joy for all ages and stages. The city's major sports and events hub, the Central Energy Trust Arena, has a variety of indoor and outdoor venues and plays a key role in regional events, as well as providing entertainment and recreation opportunities for residents and visitors.

Palmerston North is host to over 35 different sport and recreation groups, including canoe polo, basketball, golf and hockey.

ARTS, MUSIC AND NIGHTLIFE,

THE LIFEBLOOD OF AN URBAN CITY AND REASON
PEOPLE CHOOSE TO CALL IT HOME.

We are proud to have a thriving arts and culture scene and host a year-round calendar of cultural and social events and festivals that honour the vibrancy and diversity of the region.

Immerse yourself in Manawatū's eclectic arts community, where passionate, talented people can express their creativity and appreciate others. With a diverse array of art galleries, theatres, museums, dance and recording studios, exhibitions, art programmes and a lively, local music scene, it's easy to become involved.

At the cultural heart of our city lies Te Manawa Museum which celebrates art, science and heritage, drawing together creativity and discovery with an ever-changing schedule of touring exhibitions, events and activities, and family events to keep the kids entertained.

The Palmerston North City Library is also an ever-popular meeting point for our community and is locally known as the Living Room of the City.

They moved to Palmerston North after living in Singapore and meeting in Sweden as exchange students, and now have three children together.

Mahalee, a freelance tourism content specialist and digital marketer, is from the Philippines, and French born Benoit is a Professor of Chemical and Bio-Process Engineering at Massey University. He does a lot of work in wastewater engineering, but his fundamental research is focused on algae. They are both part of the Tahi Spirulina team farming local, New Zealand grown spirulina at Himatangi Beach.

There are fantastic playgrounds, open spaces and access to nature that makes it easy for families to enjoy the simple things in life. There's a real sense of community - for example, the Palmerston North City Library is dubbed the 'living room of the city' and it's so true. We go every week and it's one of our favourite places and really brings people together."

The active, relaxed lifestyle appeals to the Guieysses. The family likes to spend their weekends by getting outdoors. They head to the beach, explore glowworm caves, visit a backcountry hut, or just wander down to the Manawatū River pathway to explore by foot or bike.

"Manawatū is like a blank canvas where you can live out your best lives. There's arts, culture, innovation, a flourishing food scene and the great outdoors all at your doorstep. All in one day, you can enjoy a riverside run, the farmer's market, an afternoon of mountain biking, a sunset on the beach and a delicious evening at the local brewery."

"You'll also find people of all different backgrounds, from all over New Zealand and the world, innovating and carving their own path. In te reo Māori, Manawatū translates to 'heart standing still' which in our case, rings very true."
